DUBROVNIK

TARA RIVER - MONTENEGRO

ALBANIA & BEYOND

Being part of the Balkan Peninsula, Albania shares borders with neighboring countries like Macedonia, Montenegro, Kosovo and Greece. In history and culture, being part of this region also allows you to share the similar history and culture as civilizations and conquerors changed, appeared and disappeared. From the period of the Ancient Macedonia, Philip II and Alexander the Great, to the Roman and Byzantine, from the crusaders to the Ottoman, the powers collided in these regions creating a melting pot of different but similar traditions, folklore and life styles. So let us show you what the Balkans are all about by exploring the still untouched and virgin market called simply THE BALKANS.
